Students

At JFK, your teachers have arranged to take you on an educational field trip. These trips are designed to teach you valuable life skills that focus on developing confidence, trust, empathy, teamwork, kindness, and respect for others. During the trip, please exhibit your best behavior by dressing appropriately and setting a good example for others. The consequences of misbehavior will be severe and handled by school administrators.

I will be on my best behavior and treat others with respect while I am attending the Project Adventure field trip. I understand the consequences if I fail to do so.
